

Six pages of jokes (some of them may be considered a wee bit sexist, but hey girls, they're Just Jokes)

A MAN DIES and goes to heaven. It's a slow day for St. Peter, so upon passing the entrance test, St. Peter says "I'm not very busy today. Why don't you let me show you around?" The man thinks it's a great idea and graciously accepts the offer. St. Peter shows him all the sights: the golf course, reading room, library, observation room, cafeteria and, finally, a HUGE room full of clocks.

"What's up with those clocks, Peter?"

"Everyone on earth has a clock that shows how much time he has left on earth. When a clock runs out of time, the person dies and comes to the Gates to be judged." The man thinks this makes sense, but notices that some of the clocks are going faster than others. He asks why that is.

"Every time a living person tells a lie, it speeds up his clock."

This also makes sense, so the man takes one last look around the room before leaving and notices one clock in the centre of the ceiling. On this clock, both hands are spinning at an unbelievable rate.

"What's the story with that clock?" "Oh, that," St. Peter replies.

"That's Jeffrey Archer's clock. We decided to use it as a fan."

WHY PARENTS GET GREY HAIR

The boss of a big company needed to call one of his employees about an urgent problem with one of the main computers. He dialed the employee's home phone number and was greeted with a child's whispered, "Hello?"

Feeling put out at the inconvenience of having to talk to a youngster the boss asked, "Is your Daddy home?"

"Yes", whispered the small voice.

"May I talk with him?" the man asked.

To the surprise of the boss, the small voice whispered, "No."

Wanting to talk with an adult, the boss asked, "Is your Mommy there?"

"Yes," came the answer. "May I talk with her?"

Again the small voice whispered, "No."

Knowing that it was not likely that a young child would be left home alone, the boss decided he would just leave a message with the person who should be there watching over the child.

"Is there any one there besides you?" the boss asked the child.

"Yes," whispered the child, "a policeman."

Wondering what a cop would be doing at his employee's home, the boss asked "May I speak with the policeman?"

"No, he's busy," whispered the child.

"Busy doing what?" asked the boss.

"Talking to Daddy and Mommy and the Fireman," came the whispered answer.

Growing concerned and even worried as he heard what sounded like a helicopter through the ear piece on the phone the boss asked, "What is that noise?"

"A hello copper," answered the whispering voice.

"What is going on there?" asked the boss, now alarmed.

In an awed whispering voice the child answered,

"The search team just landed the hello copper."

Alarmed, concerned, and more than just a little frustrated the boss asked, "What are they searching for?"

Still whispering, the young voice replied along with a muffled giggle, "Me."

An English Wild Animal Park had acquired a very rare species of gorilla. Within a few weeks, the female gorilla became very horny, and difficult to handle. Upon examination, the park veterinarian determined the problem. The gorilla was in heat. To make matters worse, there were no male gorillas of the species available. While reflecting on their problem, the park management noticed Ed, an Aussie, responsible for cleaning the animals' cages. Ed, like most Aussies, had little sense, but possessed ample ability to satisfy a female of ANY species. So, the park administrators thought they might have a solution. Ed was approached with the proposition.....

Would he be willing to have sex with the gorilla for $500? Ed showed some interest, but said he would have to think the matter over carefully. The following day, Ed announced that he would accept their offer, but only under three conditions.

"First," he said, "I don't want to have to kiss her."

"Secondly, you must never tell anyone about this."

The park administration quickly agreed to these conditions, so they asked what was his third condition.

"Well," said Ed, "You gotta give me another week to come up with the $500."

AN USHER at a posh theatre came across a man lying sprawled across three seats. "Sorry sir, but you're only allowed one seat," the usher whispered.

In response, all the man did was groan. But he didn't budge!

Becoming impatient, the usher called the manager. The two of them tried repeatedly to move the man, but had no success. Finally, they summoned the police.

The cop surveyed the situation and then asked:

"Alright buddy, what's your name?"

"Sam," moaned the man.

"Where you from Sam?"

With pain in his voice, Sam replied: "... the balcony!"

Three nuns were due to enter heaven but St Peter said "I must ask you a question each first."

To first nun: "Who was the first man?" "That's easy, Adam."

"You're in"

To second nun: "Who was the first woman" "Ah that was Eve."

"Very good"

To third nun: "What were Eve's first words?" "Ooh . . . that's a hard one"

"That's right"

A farmer buys several pigs, hoping to breed them for ham, bacon, etc. After several weeks, he notices that none of the pigs are getting pregnant and calls the vet for help.

The vet tells the farmer that he should try artificial insemination. The farmer doesn't have the slightest idea of what this means but, not wanting to display his ignorance, only asks the vet how he will know when the pigs are pregnant.

The vet tells him that they will stop standing around and will, instead, lay down and wallow in the mud when they are pregnant.

The farmer hangs up and gives it some thought. He comes to the conclusion that artificial insemination means he has to impregnate the pigs. So, he loads the pigs into his truck, drives them out into the woods, has sex with them all, brings them back and goes to bed.

Next morning, he wakes and looks out at the pigs. Seeing that they are all still standing around, he concludes that the first try didn't take effect, and loads them into the truck again. He drives them out to the woods, bangs each pig twice for good measure, brings them back and goes to bed.

Next morning, he wakes to find the pigs still just standing around. "One more try", he tells himself, and proceeds to load them up and drive them out to the woods. He spends all day shagging the pigs and upon returning home, falls listlessly into bed.

The next morning, he cannot even raise himself from the bed to look at the pigs. He asks his wife to look out and tell him if the pigs are lying in the mud.

"No", she says, "but they sure are behaving strangely. They are all in the truck and one of them is honking the horn!"

A man walked into the produce section of his local supermarket and asked to buy half a head of lettuce. The boy working in that department told him that they only sold whole heads of lettuce. The man was insistent that the boy ask his manager about the matter. Walking into the back room, the boy said to his manager, "Some asshole wants to buy a half a head of lettuce." As he finished his sentence, he turned to find the man standing right behind him, so he added, "and this gentleman kindly offered to buy the other half."

The manager approved the deal and the man went on his way.

Later the manager found the boy and said, "I was impressed with the way you got yourself out of that situation earlier. We like people who think on their feet here. Where are you from, son?"

"Canada, sir," the boy replied.

"Well, why did you leave Canada," the manager asked.

The boy said, "Sir, there's nothing but whores and hockey players up there."

"Really!" said the manager. "My wife is from Canada!"

The boy replied, "No kidding???? Who did she play for?"

A prayer

Dear Lord:

So far today, I am doing all right. I have not gossiped, lost my temper, been greedy, grumpy, nasty, selfish or self indulgent. I have not whined, cursed or eaten any chocolate. However, I am going to get out of bed in a few minutes and I will need a lot more help after that.

After a long illness, a woman died and arrived at the Gates of Heaven. While she was waiting for Saint Peter to greet her, she peeked through the Gates. She saw a beautiful banquet table. Sitting all around were her parents and all the other people she had loved and who had died before her. They saw her and began calling greetings to her: "Hello. How are you? We've been waiting for you. Good to see you."

Then Saint Peter came by. The woman said to him, "This is such a wonderful place! How do I get in?"

"You have to spell a word," Saint Peter told her.

"Which word?" asked the woman. "Love," said Saint Peter.

The woman correctly spelled "L-O-V-E" and Saint Peter welcomed her into Heaven.

About a year later, Saint Peter asked the woman to watch the Gates of Heaven for him that day. While she was guarding the Gates of Heaven, her husband arrived.

"Oh, I'm so surprised to see you!" said the woman. "How have you been?"

"I've been doing really well since you died," her husband told her. "I married the beautiful young nurse who took care of you while you were ill. And then I won the lottery. I sold the little house you and I shared and moved into a big mansion. And then my wife and I traveled all around the world. We were on vacation today, water skiing, when I fell and hit my head on one of the skis, and here I am. How do I get in?"

"You have to spell a word," said the woman.

"Which word?" her husband asked.

"Czechoslovakia."

A MAN goes to place his wife's obituary in the local paper, but has only £1 to spend. Unfortunately he is told this will only get him three words. He asks the woman at the paper if he can just put 'Doris is Dead', as £1 is all he has. Feeling sorry for him she offers him six words for his pound. The old man is extremely grateful and increases the obituary to: 'Doris is Dead, Fiesta for sale!'

Birthday

A man asked his wife what she'd like for her birthday. "I'd love to be ten again," she replied. On the morning of her birthday, he got her up bright and early and off they went to a local theme park. What a day!

He put her on every ride in the park: the Death Slide, the Screaming Loop, the Wall of Fear, everything there was! Wow! Five hours later she staggered out of the theme park, her head reeling and her stomach upside down. Then off to a McDonald's they went, where her husband ordered her a Big Mac along with extra fries and a refreshing chocolate shake. Then it was off to a movie - the latest epic, and hot dogs, popcorn, Pepsi Cola and M&Ms.

What a fabulous adventure!

Finally she wobbled home with her husband and collapsed into bed. He leaned over and lovingly asked, "Well, dear, what was it like being ten again?"

One eye opened..... "You idiot, I meant my dress size."

The moral of this story:

Even when a man is listening, he's still gonna get it wrong!

The American's guide to France

France is a medium-sized foreign country situated in the continent Of Europe. It is an important member of the world community, though not nearly as important as it thinks. It is bounded by Germany, Spain, Switzerland and some smaller nations of no particular importance and with not very good shopping. France is a very old country with many treasures, such as the Louvre and Euro Disney. Among its contributions to western civilisation are champagne, Camembert cheese and the guillotine. Although France likes to think of itself as a modern nation, air conditioning is little used and it >is next to impossible for Americans to get decent Mexican food. One continuing exasperation for American visitors is that local people insist on speaking in French, though many will speak English if shouted at. Watch your money at all times.

The people

France has a population of 57 million people. 52 million of these drink and smoke (the other five million are small children). All French people drive like lunatics, are dangerously over sexed, and have no concept of standing patiently on line. The French people are in general gloomy, temperamentally proud, arrogant, aloof and disciplined; those are their good points. Most French citizens are Roman Catholic, though you would hardly guess it from their behavior. Many people are communists.

Men sometimes have girls' names like Marie or Michel, and they kiss each other when they meet. American travelers are > advised to travel in groups and wear baseball caps and colourful trousers for easier recognition.

Safety

In general, France is a safe destination, although travelers must be aware that from time to time it is invaded by Germany.

Traditionally, the French surrender immediately. A tunnel connecting France to Britain beneath the English Channel has been opened in recent years to make it easier for the French government to flee to London during future German invasions, and for them to offload all their illegal immigrants.

History

Charlemagne discovered France in the Dark Ages. Other important historical figures are Louis XIV, the Huguenots, Joan of Arc, Jacques Cousteau and Charles de Gaulle, who was President for many years and is now an airport.

Government

The French form of government is democratic but noisy. Parliament's principal occupation is setting off atomic bombs in the South Pacific and acting indignant and surprised when other countries complain. According to the most current American State department intelligence, the President is now someone named

Jacques. Further information is not available at this time.

Culture

The French pride themselves on their culture, though it is not easy to see why. All their music sounds the same and they have never made a movie that you would want to watch for anything but the nude scenes.

Cuisine

Let's face it, no matter how much garlic you put on it, a snail is just a slug with a shell on its back. Croissants on the other hand, are excellent, although it is impossible for most Americans to pronounce this word. In general, travelers are advised to stick to cheeseburgers.

Economy

France has a large and diversified economy, second only to Germany's in Europe, which is surprising because the French hardly work at all. If they are not spending four hours dawdling over lunch, they are on strike and blocking the roads with their trucks and tractors. France's principal exports, in order of importance to the economy, are wine, nuclear weapons, perfume, guided missiles, champagne, guns, grenade launchers, land mines, tanks, attack aircraft, miscellaneous armaments and cheese.

Public holidays

France has more holidays than any other nation in the world. Among It's 361 national holidays are: 197 Saints' days, > 37 National Liberation Days, 16 Declaration of Republic Days, 54 Return of Charles de Gaulle-in-triumph-as-if-he-won-the-war-single-handed Days, 18 Napoleon-sent-into-Exile-Days, 17 Napoleon-Called-Back-from-Exile-Days, and 2 "France is Great and the Rest of the World Stinks" Days.

Conclusion

At least it's not Germany.

A big corporate firm employed about a dozen cannibals. 'Well', said the HR man, 'There are all sorts of benefits here, including free lunch each day. Help yourselves, but please don't eat our employees.' After their month's trial, the company was very pleased with their work, 'But', said the HR man, 'One of our secretaries has disappeared. You don't know anything about it do you?' Of course, they all shook their heads vigorously. After he'd gone, the senior cannibal said. 'Right, which one of you was it?' A quivering hand went up. 'You bloody idiot,' said the senior one, 'We've all been eating managers for a month and no one's noticed. Trust you to pick someone who'd be missed.'

A sheep's tale

A shepherd was herding his flock in a remote pasture when suddenly a brand-new BMW advanced out of the dust cloud towards him. The driver, a young man in a Broni suit, Gucci shoes, Ray Ban sunglasses and YSL tie, leaned out the window and asked the shepherd, "If I tell you exactly how many sheep you have in your flock, will you give me one?"
 The shepherd looked at the man, obviously a yuppie, then looked at his peacefully-grazing flock and calmly answered, "Sure."
 The yuppie parked his car, whipped out his IBM Thinkpad and connected it to a cell phone, then he surfed to a NASA page on the internet where he called up a GPS satellite navigation system, scanned the area, and then opened up a database and an Excel spreadsheet with complex formulas. He sent an email on his Blackberry and, after a few minutes, received a response. Finally, he prints out a 150 page report on his hi-tech, miniaturized printer then turns to the shepherd and says,.....
 "You have exactly 1586 sheep".
 "That is correct; take one of the sheep" said the shepherd.
 He watches the young man select one of the animals and bundle it into his car. Then the shepherd says: "If I can tell you exactly what your business is, will you give me back my sheep?"
 "OK, why not" answered the young man.
 "Clearly, you are a consultant" said the shepherd.
 "That's correct" says the yuppie, "but how did you guess that?"
 "No guessing required" answers the shepherd. "You turned up here although nobody called you. You want to get paid for an answer I already knew, to a question I never asked, and you don't know crap about my business. Now give me back my dog".

The Memory man

A bloke was touring the USA on holiday and stopped in a remote bar in the hills of Nevada. He was chatting to the bartender when he spied an old Indian sitting in the corner. He had tribal gear on, long white plaits, wrinkled face.
 'Who's he?' said the bloke. 'That's the Memory Man.' said the bartender. 'He knows everything. He can remember any fact. Go and try him out.' So the bloke goes over thinking 'He won't know about English football.'
 'Who won the 1965 FA Cup Final?' he asks.
 'Liverpool' replies the Memory Man. 'Who did they beat?'
 'Leeds' was the reply. 'And the score?'
 '2-1'
 'Who scored the winning goal?'
 'Ian St. John' was the old man's reply.
 The bloke was knocked out by this and told everyone back home about the Memory Man when he got back. A few years later he went back to the USA and tried to find the impressive Memory

Man. Eventually he found the bar and sitting in the same seat was the old Indian only this time he was older and more wrinkled. Because he was so impressed the bloke decided to greet the Indian in his native tongue. He approached him with the greeting 'How'. The Memory man replied. 'Diving header in the six yard box'

Success

At age 4 success is ... not peeing in your pants.
 At age 12 success is ... having friends.
 At age 16 success is ... having a drivers license.
 At age 20 success is ... going all the way.
 At age 35 success is ... having money.
 At age 50 success is ... having money.
 At age 60 success is ... going all the way.
 At age 70 success is ... having a drivers license.
 At age 75 success is ... having friends.
 At age 80 success is ... not peeing in your pants!

There was a Scotsman, an Englishman and an Irishman having a drink. The Scotsman said "this is not as good as my pub. Back home you drink four pints and they give you one free." The Englishman said "Well in my local you buy three and they give you another one." The Irishman then said "Well in my pub they buy you all drinks, put you to bed and you get laid."
 Really, said the others, when did that happen?
 "Well," said the Irishman, "It didn't happen to me but to my sister."

Did you hear about the two chaps who went into the jungle for a walk despite being warned about a man-eating tiger loose. On hearing a rustle in the bushes, one chap took a pair of running shoes from his rucksack. His friend said "You don't think you can run faster than a tiger do you?" To which came the reply, "No but I could run faster than you."

We always hear "the rules" from the female side. Now here are the rules from the male side.

These are our rules.

Please note, these are all numbered number "1" on purpose.

1. Breasts are for looking at and that is why we do it. Don't try to change that.

1. Learn to work the toilet seat. You're a big girl. If it's up, put it down. We need it up, you need it down. You don't hear us complaining about you leaving it down.

1. Saturday = Sports. It's like the full moon or the changing of the tides. Let it be.

1. Shopping is NOT a sport. And no, we are never going to think of it that way.

1. Crying is blackmail.

1. Ask for what you want. Let us be clear on this one: Subtle hints do not work! Strong hints do not work! Obvious hints do not work! Just say it!

1. Yes and No are perfectly acceptable answers to almost every question.

1. Come to us with a problem only if you want help solving it.

That's what we do. Sympathy is what your girl friends are for.

1. A headache that lasts 17 months is a problem. See a doctor.

1. Anything we said 6 months ago is inadmissible in an argument. In fact, all comments become null and void after 7 days.

1. If you think you're fat you probably are. Don't ask us.

1. If something we said can be interpreted two ways, and one of them makes you sad or angry, we meant the other one.

1. You can either ask us to do something or tell us how you want it done - not both. If you already know how to do it, just do it yourself.

1. Whenever possible, please say whatever you have to say during the commercials.

1. Christopher Columbus did not need directions and neither do we.

1. ALL men see in only 16 colours, like Windows default settings. Peach, for example, is a fruit, not a colour. Pumpkin is also a fruit. We have no idea what mauve is.

1. If it itches, it will be scratched. We do that.

1. If we ask what is wrong and you say "nothing" we will act like nothing's wrong. We know you are lying but it's just not worth the hassle.

1. If you ask a question you don't want an answer to, expect an answer you don't want to hear.

1. When we have to go somewhere, absolutely anything you wear is fine. Really.

1. Don't ask what we're thinking about unless you're prepared to discuss topics such as Sex, Sports or Cars.

1. You have enough clothes.

1. You have too many shoes.

1. I am in shape. Round is a shape.

1. Thank you for reading this; yes, I know, I'll have to sleep on the couch tonight, but did you know men don't really mind that, it's like camping.

A woman was just about to throw herself off the roof when Santa spied her.

"Ho ho ho, what's this?"

"I can't pay the mortgage, I owe £10,000 on the credit cards and I can't buy any presents for my children. I'm at my wit's end."

"Ah" said Santa, "I can solve those problems but you've got to make love to me first"

"Oh very well if I must."

After making passionate love the woman said, "Well you'll keep your promises now?"

Said Santa: "You don't still believe in Santa Claus, do you?"

Minister's secretary to her boss: "Do you want the good news or the bad?"

"Oh, let's have the good first."

"Minister you're not infertile."

At the run - up to the election the MP toured a nursing home and found an old man gazing blankly at the TV screen. Says the MP "Do you know who I am?"

Says old man, "Go and see matron and she'll tell you."

The three wise men who knocked on the stable door and Joseph asked what Christmas gifts they'd brought.

1st King said "I've brought the tree with lots of candles." "Yes," said Joseph, "you can come in."

2nd King: "And I've brought the holly with lots of berries." "Fine, come in."

3rd King: "And here is some flimsy sexy underwear."

Joseph: "What's that got to do with Christmas?"

"Ah well they're Carol's".

A man wakes up one morning to find a bear on his roof. So he looks in the yellow pages and sure enough, there's an ad for "Bear Removers."

He calls the number, and the bear remover says he'll be over in 30 minutes. The bear remover arrives, and gets out of his van. He's got a ladder, a baseball bat, a shotgun and a mean old pit bull.

"What are you going to do," the homeowner asks?

"I'm going to put this ladder up against the roof, then I'm going to go up there and knock the bear off the roof with this baseball bat.

When the bear falls off, the pit bull is trained to grab his testicles and not let go. The bear will then be subdued enough for me to put him in the cage in the back of the van."

He hands the shotgun to the homeowner.

"What's the shotgun for?" asks the homeowner.

"If the bear knocks me off the roof, shoot the dog."

Susan B. was in a traffic jam in Liverpool caused by a large car blocking the road. It only needed to reverse a little to clear the way, so a taxi-driver leaned out and shouted, if you'd just reverse the length of your dick we could all get through.'

(Alan Bennett, Writing Home)

Life Lesson:

On the first day God created the dog. God said, "Sit all day by the door of your house and bark at anyone who comes in or walks past. I will give you a life span of twenty years." The dog said, "That's too long to be barking. Give me ten years and I'll give you back the other ten." So God agreed.

On the second day God created the monkey. God said, "Entertain people, do monkey tricks, make them laugh. I'll give you a twenty-year life span." The monkey said, "How boring, monkey tricks for twenty years? I don't think so. Dog gave you back ten, so that's what I'll do too, Okay?" And God agreed.

On the third day God created the cow. God said, "You must go to the field with the farmer all day long and suffer under the sun, have calves and give milk to support the farmer. I will give you a life span of sixty years." The cow said, "That's kind of a tough life you want me to live for sixty years. Let me have twenty and I'll give back the other forty." And God agreed again.

On the fourth day God created man. God said, "Eat, sleep, play, marry and enjoy your life. I'll give you twenty years." Man said, "What? Only twenty years! Tell you what, I'll take my twenty and forty the cow gave back and the ten the monkey gave back and then the ten the dog gave back, that makes eighty, okay?" "Okay," said God, "You've got a deal."

So that is why the first twenty years we eat, sleep, play, and enjoy ourselves; for the next forty years we slave in the sun to support our family; for the next ten years we do monkey tricks to entertain the grandchildren; and for the last ten years we sit on the front porch and bark at everyone.
